

Guild Meeting
March 9, 2017
Luncheon at the Cavalier Resort

The Guild meeting for March 2017 was a special excursion to Hearst Castle for a busload of members. We were treated to a fascinating and informative tour of the large tapestries hanging in the Castle, arranged by Program Chair Yvonne Smith. Docent Muna Cristal described for us the history of tapestries, techniques, and designs as they changed through time and region. She answered many interesting questions asked by the members.

A brief business meeting followed during luncheon at the Cavalier Resort. Twenty-seven attended, including six guests.

The meeting was called to order by President Karen Wiley, who thanked Yvonne for planning and arranging this extra-special event.

Chair Reports

Thursday programs – Yvonne reported that Deborah Jarchow will give a program on weaving with chenille on April 13. In May, Judy Carter will present a program on coverlets.

Saturday programs – Nancy and Marya reported that the March 25 meeting will be at Sally Knight's house, with Sally doing a program on warping. On April 29, there will be a special Katherin Weber-type dye day at Becky's house. Those planning to attend should RSVP to Marya by April 13, so sufficient supplies can be obtained.

Workshops – Deborah Jarchow will present a half-day workshop on color to the Rigid Heddle Interest Group on April 13, after the Guild meeting.

Retreat – Roberta reminded people that the retreat will be in November, the weekend after the sale. Chrissa Hewitt is now on the board for Camp Ocean Pines and would welcome comments from the group.

Announcements

The Pass-it-Forward will be Saturday, April 22 at the Strawbale Barn. Further details are in the Draft.

The Annual Picnic and Tag Sale will be June 17 at Betty Polansky's house in Solvang (please note the revised date).

Convergence 2018 will be in Reno, Nevada.

Respectfully submitted,
