

"THE HISTORY OF INDIGO PRODUCTION" with John Marshall. John will share his vast knowledge of the history of indigo. A not-to-be-missed event, full of information for those interested in indigo or the color blue.

Specializing in one-of-a-kind works of art, John's work is designed, dyed, and constructed for actual use. All hues are colorfast to repeated washings and to light. Personally executing all stages going into the creation of each piece is one of his great joys.

You can visit John's website at John Marshall | Japanese textiles, katazome, and natural dyes for more information and to see his work. If there is something you like contact him directly. He may be able to deliver it personally.

Special bonus: Trunk Show

After the meeting John will open up the many trunks he brings for members to shop from. There will be a broad range of Japanese textiles, garments, yarns and more. He has some new Japanese handbags of katazome on deerskin along with lots of shibori and indigo textiles.
